IE STUDENT HEALTH

Help Protect Your International Community

IE Student Health is a new company started by two experienced international educators with expertise in the field of health insurance and health care for international educational communities.

Pilot Program

As we begin our mission to improve the health of international visitors around the US, we are recruiting 5 institutions to serve as pilot clients. We would like your higher education institution to be one of those clients.

The purpose of the Pilot Program is to provide discounted services to institutions while we refine our products and pricing. If you choose to enroll, your institution will receive our services for one year at a price significantly lower than the normal market price for such services. In essence, we will use our work for your institution to help us determine a fair price for future clients. It's a good deal for us and an even better deal for you.

Pilot Program Service Options

DATABASE SUBSCRIPTION

The private insurance market for international education is rife with deception, unfair business practices, and inadequate policies. Over the course of the past three years, we have built a searchable online database of acceptable private individual insurance options for international students, scholars, and dependent family members. We can tailor this database to meet your institution's needs by noting your local in-network medical facilities and incorporating both your minimum insurance requirements and/or hard waiver criteria.

Pilot Price: $1,000 for 1st year subscription
$400 for 2nd year renewal

EDUCATIONAL PUBLICATION

One of the greatest challenges to creating a healthy international community is educating its members about how to interface with the complex US system of health insurance and health care. We can create effective and visually appealing publications to help educate your international community about a range of topics such as how to access appropriate local health facilities when the need arises, how to define emergent conditions, and etc. Each publication can be tailored to meet the specifications of your institutional health insurance policy (if applicable), the health care facilities and resources available in your local area.

Pilot Price: $200 per page (8.5x11) plus cost of printing

ORIENTATION PRESENTATION

We have authored a number of presentations that would be appropriate for international student/scholar orientation programs or for ongoing educational programming. We can provide you with engaging and succinct educational presentations to augment your existing program offerings. Presentations will be modified to meet the health care needs of your specific population. We can either provide the materials needed for you to give the presentation or we can come to your campus to give the presentation ourselves.

Pilot Price for presentation materials: $350 per file

Pilot Price for on-site presentations: $750 plus travel expenses (presentation materials can be retained for unlimited use)

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

There is no substitute for one-on-one support, which is why institutions like yours provide such support to the international community for visa and immigration matters. The same level of support is highly effective for health matters as well, but in order to provide quality service, your staff members must first be trained. We can provide training for any number of personnel and campus stakeholders so that your institution can provide comprehensive, quality support on an ongoing basis to meet the health needs of your international community.

Pilot Price: $600 for 4-hour training, plus travel expenses

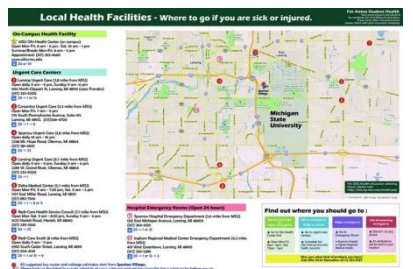

Limited-time Discount

We are offering a percentage discount to institutions that purchase three or four of the available services.

- Three Services: 10% discount
- Four Services: 15% discount
